MONTGOMERY BARRON

PUBLISHED BY POWERHOUSE
136 PAGES
70 DUOTONE PHOTOGRAPHS

The vodka-cigarettes combo, the disco balls and fragile souls, the sex and drugs and fame, all made New York in the '60s the epicenter of the world. Jeannette Montgomery was part of the underground scene, partying with artists, photographers, fashion designers, writers and actors who changed art and pop culture. She lived it and caught it with her camera, bringing us this rich book featuring portraits of Willem Dafoe, Julian Schnabel, Robert Mapplethorpe, Jenny Holzer, Cindy Sherman, Kalleen Bigelow, George Condo, William Burroughs and other Downtown icons. SCENE takes us back in time, through the faces of the ones who changed our culture.
